SANCTUARY LAMP

This week's sanctuary lamp at St. Francis Church burns in memory of Rosemary Flynn Walsh.

The one
who feeds
on this Bread
shall live forever

...While they were eating,
he took bread, said the blessing, , broke it, gave it to them, and said, "Take it; this is my body." Then he took a cup, gave thanks, and gave it to them, and they all drank from it. He said to them, "This is my blood of the covenant, which will be shed for many. Amen, I say to you, I shall not drink again the fruit of the vine until the day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God."...

JUNE 3, 2018

From the Pastor,

Just a word of explanation: the roots of the trees between the steps in front of the church were in danger of damaging the foundation of the building; we had noticed a bit of leaking in the hall downstairs. So it was time for them to go. Most people seem not to have noticed. In any case, they have been replaced, at least temporarily, by hanging pots of flowers. Perhaps we can plant new hybrid trees that will not grow so large as the former ones. Some people want to see a statue put there; I do not. The statues of Our Lady and of St. Francis which now adorn the outside of the church, with their attending landscaping, cost $20,000, donated by someone who wishes to remain anonymous. Adding more would, in my opinion, be a case of what Shakespeare called, "painting the lily," usually improved upon as "gilding the lily."

All in all, I think the property around the church looks great. I can't thank Bobby Kelly and Anthony Rossi enough for the work they put into the rectory lawn. And Bonny Ingalls is such a blessing to us in the hours of labor she spends on keeping up all the gardens. God bless the work and the workers!

THE ANNUAL CATHOLIC COMMUNICATION COLLECTION WEEKEND OF JUNE 9/10

Each year the Catholic Communication Collection is taken up the second weekend in June in our diocese. Half of this national collection remains in the Diocese of Providence and provides funding for so much of the good work the Communications Office provides.

The Communications Office is the conduit by which the Bishop of Providence and other officials of the Diocese of Providence convey information, statements, pastoral letters and related material to the public through the print, broadcast and electronic media in a timely manner. The office also provides counsel to parishes and schools on public and media relations. The office also provides communications support to annual appeals; serves on the boards of the Rhode Island Catholic, the diocesan newspaper; produces and maintains the diocesan Web site, the diocesan App, the diocese on social media; and much more. We thank you in advance for your continued support.

Michael Pakaluk, author, Professor of Ethics, contributor to the Boston Pilot, member of the Pontifical Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas, will be speaking at St. Pius V church, Eaton St. Providence, on Wednesday, June 6th at 7pm. His topic will be “The Appalling Strangeness of the Mercy of God”. His presentation is based on his memoir of his late wife, Ruth, who was a convert to the Catholic faith, a mother of seven children, and a pro-life advocate. Suggested donation $10.00. For more information call 401-489-6757.

My name is Paula Thayer, a Resident Program Assistant at Brookdale South Bay, Senior Living Solutions, 1959 Kingstown Rd in Wakefield. We are seeking volunteers to assist staff in our daily activities program in our Skilled Nursing.

Our program is seven days per week, four –five hours per day. Some of our activities include arts & crafts, special, weekly and monthly events, exercise and indoor sports, table games, iPad games and activities to name a few. Our Mission: Enriching the lives of those we serve with compassion, respect, excellence, and integrity.

If you love working with seniors, have 2-3 hours a week, twice a month or once a month, or for more information, please call me or Chris Sheil at 401-789-4880 ext.108 to set up an appointment.

THANK YOU TO THE SAINT ROMUALD CHAPEL CHOIR

A sincere and heartfelt thanks to Andrea, Bill, Diane, Emily, Jane, Janette, John, Obe, Pat, Peter and Steve. These are the members of the Saint Romuald Chapel Choir who have dedicated their Sunday morning to encouraging and enhancing our worship at Saint Romuald Chapel. We are truly blessed by their generous dedication.
