FROM THE PASTOR...

Last Sunday we had our annual Christmas Pageant performed by some of our children from grades 1-6. In spite of the fact that the rehearsals were thrown off by the snowy weather, they did a remarkable job. I am sure that all who attended found their presentation of the Christmas Story to be both inspiring and heartwarming. Thanks to our young actors and narrators, as well as our directors Barbette Cullen and Kathleen Puchalla and musicians Mimi Battey and Kerry Quirk for a job well done!

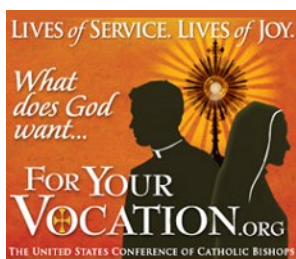

In any large, active parish like our own, there are always a number of people who provide extremely valuable service to the life of the parish in a very quiet way behind the scenes. I would like to hail one such person who has generously given many hours of service to our parish community. For the past few years, Rose Gink has opened the church every morning and prepared the sanctuary for daily Mass. No one could have been more dedicated or attentive to every detail in carrying out this responsibility. Rose has certainly earned the opportunity to relax a little and not have to arrive as early every morning or fret about the weather. I wish to express our heartfelt gratitude to Rose for her always cheerful and generous service to us.

I am pleased to say that we have found several people who have graciously agreed to share the duty of opening the church in the morning. I am grateful to Dana Hawkins, Marge DeGrace, Kathleen Carney and Jean McGair who will assist us in this way.

On a practical note, for the sake of consistency, from now on the church will be opened at 6:30 AM in anticipation of the 7 AM Mass. The church remains open during the day for those who may wish to stop in to make a visit. On weekdays, the church is generally closed at 4:00 PM. On weekends and holidays, the church is locked after the last Mass.

Also, regarding snow storms, if we have a significant accumulation of snow during the night and, particularly if it is still snowing in the morning, you can presume that the morning Mass is canceled. While the storm continues, it is impossible for us to have the parking lot and walks adequately cleared. Although attending daily Mass is an admirable spiritual practice, when the roads are hazardous and walkways are not well cleared, you should not risk your safety.

Msgr. Theroux
